Lose a Day

This is just a quick note to let you know that we will leave Nashville this Friday, and arrive in Taipei Saturday night, 22

September. We are going to try to send a couple reports from there, since on this (our third) trip to Taiwan this year, we will be staying until mid-December. We met Sunday night with several of our volunteer WEI teachers, and enjoyed talking and planning. We had prepared a PowerPoint Presentation to introduce Taiwan and to give guidelines about the WEI material. We are sending this PPT to you as an attachment.

October and November

So far, there are six of us who are definitely traveling to Taiwan to teach this fall. The two of us are arriving first, and will be welcoming Larry Raper in early October. Since his first tour in fall, 2005, he has continued studying and communicating with one of his students and her family via telephone and internet. One of the things he is excited about is that he can see them again, and from a contact this past summer, it seems that her husband is very much interested in the course. He introduced a niece to us who will continue studying this fall.

Another veteran teacher, Sarah Coggins, is planning to arrive in the last part of October. She also is excited about reconnecting with some of her students.

There are a couple of our volunteers who are hoping to be in Taiwan at about the same time, but their plans have not firmed up yet.

December

Rodney and Carole English will leave Nashville just after Thanksgiving, arriving in Taipei on a Saturday night. That will be just in time for the church-sponsored "pot luck" luncheon, which will carry a "Thanksgiving" theme. We are hoping to make this an annual affair, involving our Christian family and our "seeker" students. These two teachers will leave Taiwan two days before we do.

Gain a Day

Our return flight will bring us to Nashville on December 12. In the meantime, we hope to stay in touch with you. We do much correspondence with e-mail, and it has cut our postage expense drastically. We hope to have a Paragon Mills elder, and our good friend, Paul Nelson, to send out the "snail mail" reports.

Thank You

Thank you for your prayers and encouragement. May God bless us all as we work together.

In His love,

Enoch and Jeannine
